I'm Daniel Nowak. AI consulting built around:

Strategi|

The world is speeding up, and technology keeps opening new doors. AI, digital tools and automation are genuinely changing how we work and how we spend our time. But it's easy to lose control in all of it: instead of technology working for you, you end up working for it.

That's why I focus on go-to-market and the processes underneath it, the part most AI projects skip. Marketing, sales, customer operations: the places where a broken handoff costs more than any tool can save. I fix the process first, then apply AI to it. In that order, it works.

I bring 18 years of hospitality, revenue-operations and AI experience to the table, because tools change every quarter. Judgement doesn't.
